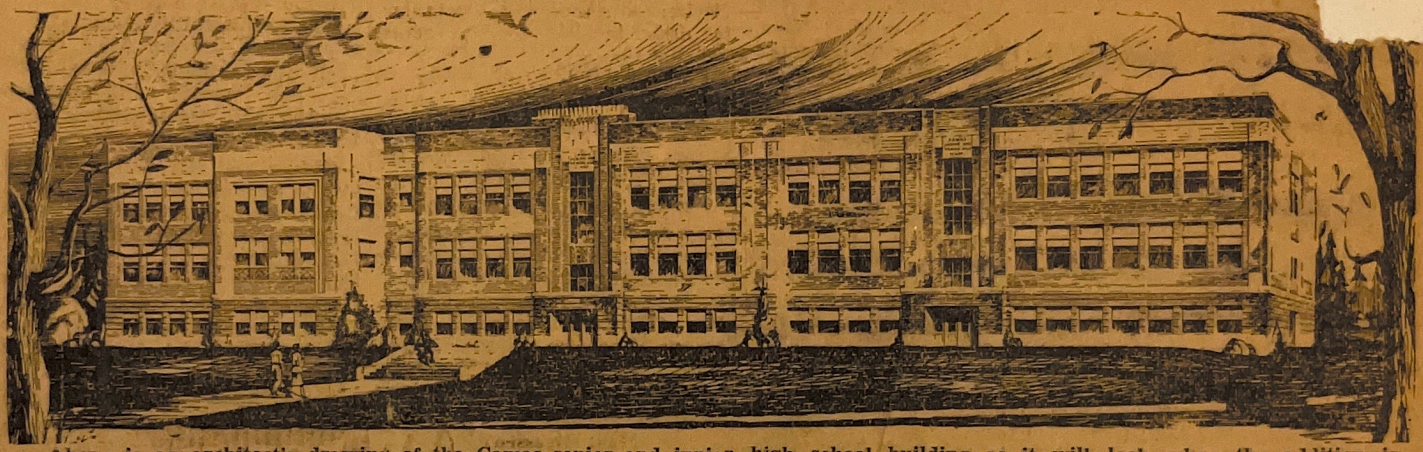
New Camas High School



Above is an architect's drawing of the Camas senior and junior high school building as it will look when the addition is finished. PWA assistance was secured by the Camas school district for this addition, and the contract has been awarded. It will make the Camas school plant one of the finest of its size in the state.